Email Campaign Variants

Internal Review Document - April 2026

10 variants: 5 B2C (consumers) + 5 B2B (brand marketers)

Prepared for team review and A/B test planning

B2C - Former Coupon Redeemers (Consumers)

B2C-A: "No more receipt scanning. Ever." -- Old way (receipt uploads) vs new way (deals on your list)

B2C-B: "Your shopping list now saves you money." -- Deals hunt you -- passive savings. Flip table old vs new

B2C-C: "Brands still want to give you free stuff." -- Penny Swaps -- same free products, zero friction

B2C-D: "No more 'I'm going to the store. Need anything?'" -- Family coordination -- shared lists, no duplicates

B2C-E: "Stop scanning receipts for pocket change." -- Anti-receipt / anti-cashback. Ibotta contrast

B2B - Former Brand Marketers (CPG)

B2B-A: "Your products. Their shopping list. Zero friction." -- Old funnel (6 steps) vs new (3 steps)

B2B-B: "Receipt marketing is dead. Here's what replaced it." -- Problem list vs solution list. Blunt and direct

B2B-C: "Shelf placement costs millions. List placement doesn't." -- Slotting fees vs list placement comparison

B2B-D: "Pay when they want it. Not when they ignore it." -- Performance/intent-based. Anti-wasted-impressions

B2B-E: "Cashback apps reach shoppers after. We reach them before." -- Head-to-head Ibotta comparison table

B2C Variants - Former Coupon Redeemers

B2C-A | SUBJECT: No more receipt scanning. Ever.

Angle: Old way (receipt uploads) vs new way (deals on your list)

No more receipt scanning. Ever.

Groflo

No more receipt scanning. Ever.

You used to work for your deals. Now they work for you.

Hey there,

Remember uploading receipts to get a few bucks back? Snapping photos, waiting for verification, hoping the image wasn't blurry?

Yeah, we're done with that.

The old way

Find a coupon. Buy the product. Take a photo of your receipt. Upload it. Wait 48 hours. Get reimbursed. Repeat.

The Groflo way

Add items to your list. Penny finds deals and free products automatically. No receipts. No scanning. No waiting. Brands come to you -- right on your shopping list, before you even get to the store.

Groflo has evolved. The old coupon modules are gone, but what's here now is something way better -- a smart shared shopping list powered by Penny, your AI assistant. She organizes your groceries, coordinates your household, and hunts for savings 24/7.

The deals you used to chase? They chase you now.

Meet Penny -- It's Free

No app. No receipts. No catch.

Welcome to the upgrade,

Angle: Deals hunt you -- passive savings. Flip table old vs new

You used to hunt for deals. Now they hunt for you.

Groflo

Your shopping list now saves you money.

While you sleep. While you work. While you do literally anything else.

Hey there,

You already know Groflo -- you used our platform to redeem deals from brands you love. That system is going away. But what's replacing it is honestly kind of wild.

Your grocery list now does the deal-hunting for you.

Meet Penny, your AI shopping assistant. When you add items to your Groflo list, Penny works behind the scenes -- scanning for deals, surfacing free product trials, and learning what you like so she can find even better offers over time.

| Upload receipts after shopping | -> | Deals appear on your list before you shop

| Wait 48 hours for reimbursement | -> | Free products, right in your cart

| You find deals one at a time | -> | Penny hunts 24/7, learns what you like

| Deals for just you | -> | Shared list = whole family saves

Instead of you hunting for deals, your shopping list hunts for you.

And it never stops looking.

No app to download. Just open groflo.io and tell Penny what you need.

Let Penny Find Your Deals

Free forever. Smarter every day.

Happy saving,

Brands still want to give you free stuff

Groflo

Brands still want to give you free stuff.

Only now, you don't have to photograph your receipts to get it.

Hey there,

You used Groflo to snag deals from brands -- free trials, discounts, new products. Good news: that hasn't stopped. It just got a whole lot easier.

Groflo is now a smart shared shopping list. Add your groceries, and Penny -- our AI assistant -- spots when a brand is offering something free or discounted on your list. We call them Penny Swaps.

| You add "yogurt" to your list

| Penny says: "Chobani is offering a free 4-pack. Want it?"

| You tap "yes." Free yogurt. Done.

No receipt photos. No waiting for reimbursement. The deal happens before you shop, not after.

But wait, there's more (sorry, had to):

Shared lists. Your whole household sees the same list in real time.

No duplicates. Penny flags when someone already grabbed the milk.

Sorted by aisle. In and out of the store, fast.

No app required. Works in your phone's browser.

No more "I'm going to the store. Need anything?"

Your family's grocery problem, solved.

Hey there,

You know Groflo from redeeming deals. We're writing because Groflo has become something bigger -- and we think your whole household is going to love it.

Sound familiar?

"I'm at the store -- need anything?"

no reply

You buy milk. Your partner buys milk. Your kid bought milk yesterday.

Three milks. Zero coordination.

With Groflo, that's over.

One shared list. Everyone sees it. Penny -- your AI assistant -- keeps it sorted, flags duplicates, and checks things off in real time.

Text "need milk" and your partner sees it instantly. Claim it so nobody else buys it. Done.

And because you're a Groflo deal-hunter at heart -- Penny also finds free products and brand deals on your list. Automatically. No receipt scanning required.

It works in your phone's browser. No app. Takes 10 seconds to start.

Stop scanning receipts for pocket change.

There's a better way to save on groceries. And it takes zero effort.

Hey there,

You shouldn't have to do homework to save money on groceries. No receipt photos. No coupon clipping. No cashback apps where you earn $0.35 after 10 minutes of work.

What if your grocery list just... saved you money?

That's Groflo now. You add items. Penny -- your AI shopping assistant -- scans for deals, free trials, and brand offers. She learns what you like and gets better over time. Your list is literally working for you while you do other things.

Reach families at the exact moment they decide what to buy.

Hey there,

You used Groflo's coupon modules to get your products in front of shoppers. Campaigns, receipt verification, redemption tracking -- it worked. But it also required shoppers to do homework after they bought your product.

What if your product showed up before they even got to the store?

Groflo has evolved into an AI-powered shared shopping list for families. When a shopper adds "yogurt" to their list, our AI assistant Penny can suggest your brand -- right there, at the point of decision. We call them Penny Swaps.

Groflo Coupon Modules

Create campaign -> Shopper buys -> Photographs receipt -> Uploads -> Waits 48hrs -> Gets reimbursed

6 steps. Lots of drop-off.

Groflo Penny Swaps

Shopper adds item -> Penny suggests your brand -> They tap "yes"

3 steps. Decision at the moment of intent.

Your brand. On their list. Before they shop.

Not after. Not buried in an app. Right where the decision happens.

Families are building shopping lists on Groflo every day. Your products can be part of that list -- surfaced naturally, at the right moment, to the right household.

Receipt marketing is dead.

Here's what replaced it.

Hey there,

Let's be honest about the old model. You ran a coupon campaign. Shoppers bought your product, took a photo of their receipt, uploaded it, and waited for reimbursement. By the time the data came back, the moment was gone.

High friction -- most shoppers never uploaded their receipt

Verification after purchase -- you couldn't influence the decision

Delayed data -- campaign insights arrived days later

One-and-done -- no ongoing relationship with the shopper

Groflo now puts your brand on the shopping list itself.

Groflo is now an AI-powered shared shopping list used by families every week. When someone adds an item, our AI assistant Penny can suggest your product as a swap -- a free trial, a deal, a better option. Right at the moment of decision.

Pre-purchase placement -- your product shows up before they shop

Zero friction for shoppers -- one tap to accept, no receipts

Household reach -- shared lists mean your brand reaches the whole family

Ongoing discovery -- Penny learns preferences and resurfaces your brand

Real engagement data -- see who's interested, not just who redeemed

From "prove you bought it" to "want to try it?"

That's a fundamentally better place to meet a shopper.

Get your CPG brand in front of families -- right on their shopping list.

Hey there,

You know the game. Slotting fees. End-cap negotiations. Trade spend that disappears into a black hole. You're spending big money to be in the store -- but by the time a shopper walks down the aisle, they've already decided what they're buying.

What if you could be on the list they walk in with?

Groflo is now an AI-powered shopping list used by families every week. When a household adds items, our AI Penny can surface your product as a suggestion -- a free trial, a deal, a swap. Before they leave the house.

Be on the list. Not just on the shelf.

Families plan together on Groflo. Your brand can be part of that plan.

Whether you're an emerging brand trying to break through or an established name looking for a better channel -- Groflo gives you a direct line to households at the moment of decision.

Not when they ignore it.

Performance-based brand placement on the shopping lists families actually use.

Hey there,

You've run CPG campaigns. You know the math. Impressions are cheap. Engagement is expensive. And somewhere between "saw your ad" and "put it in the cart" -- most of your budget evaporates.

Traditional CPG digital ads:

~96% of ad impressions never lead to a purchase consideration.

You're paying for eyeballs that keep scrolling.

What if you only paid when a shopper actually wanted your product?

Groflo Penny Swaps: Your product is suggested to a shopper at the exact moment they're building their grocery list. They tap "yes" because they're interested -- not because an algorithm served them an ad while they were watching cat videos.

That's intent. Real, grocery-list intent.

Moment of decision. Your brand appears when they're actively choosing what to buy this week

Household scale. Shared lists mean one placement reaches the whole family

AI-powered matching. Penny learns preferences -- your brand gets surfaced to the right shoppers

Free trials that convert. Give shoppers a reason to try, not just a reason to scroll past

Your old Groflo dashboard tracked redemptions after the fact. The new Groflo influences decisions before they happen. That's a fundamentally different -- and better -- place to spend your brand dollars.

There's a better moment to introduce your brand to families.

Hey there,

You've probably considered platforms like Ibotta -- pay-per-redemption, cashback offers, big audience numbers. It works. But there's a timing problem.

Cashback happens after the purchase. The shopper already decided what to buy. Your offer is a nice bonus, not a decision driver. They were buying that peanut butter anyway -- you just subsidized it.

Groflo reaches shoppers while they're still deciding.

Groflo influences the decision itself.

Your old Groflo coupon campaigns had the same post-purchase problem. The new Groflo fixes it. Your product appears on family shopping lists -- suggested by Penny, our AI assistant -- before anyone leaves the house.

That's a fundamentally more valuable moment for your brand.

A/B Testing Strategy

Wave 1 -- Initial Split Test (Day 1)

* Send all 5 variants to equal segments (20% each) of each audience list.
* Measure: open rate (subject line) + click-through rate (CTA/content).
* Wait 48 hours for statistically meaningful results.

Wave 2 -- Winner + Runner-Up (Day 3)

* Take the top 2 performing variants from Wave 1.
* Re-send to non-openers with tweaked subject lines.
* Example: if 'No more receipts' won, follow up with 'Still photographing receipts for $0.35?'
* Captures people who missed or ignored the first email.

Wave 3 -- Final Nudge (Day 10)

* Short follow-up to remaining non-converters.
* Use a DIFFERENT angle from the Wave 1 winner.
* If receipts angle won, try family coordination or free products.
* Keep brief: 3-4 sentences, single CTA.

Key Metrics

* Open Rate -- which subject lines resonate?
* Click-Through Rate -- which content drives action?
* Conversion Rate -- who signs up at app.groflo.io?
* Unsubscribe Rate -- which messaging turns people off?
* B2B: track replies and demo requests separately.

Audience Segmentation

* B2C: consumers who uploaded receipts on old Groflo coupon platform.
* B2B: brand marketers who had Groflo dashboard accounts.
* Keep these audiences COMPLETELY separate -- different pain points, CTAs.
* B2C links to app.groflo.io | B2B links to groflo.io/for-brands.
